Royal American
University

Royal American University was founded with the vision of online courses as a way to attract new students and an opportunity to improve the student learning experience. Unlike other online universities, Royal American University is looking forward to replacing large lecture hall classes of several hundred students with smaller online versions. This creates a more personal learning experience for students, allowing them to receive more individual attention. Instructors often spend twice as much time in online classes as on-campus classes.

Royal American University's well-designed online courses can furnish adult learners with more control over the learning process. Since these courses are often taught asynchronously, learners attend at their convenience. And, because the Web is widely available, the courses are completed from various locations around the world. The highly valued faculty members deliver education to help students develop competence and gain academic qualifications to stand out amongst others in the job market. The career service counselors offer services such as resume & cover letter writing, job placement and career counseling to students and alumni.
